1.2. Version update

More players' names corrected, and now I hope that all European squads are accurate. I'm not sure 100% about the rest of the world, so keep mailing me if you find some errors.

1.3. Version update

Another quick update, but a very important one!

Thanks to Chris Brown from UK, I managed to unlock Classic All-Star teams in ISS Pro Evolution 2! You have to win the INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE playing FULL SEASON. So I updated the name list with the Classic All-Stars' true player names. Sorry for the error and a big thanks to Chris!

2.0. Version update

Ten days ago, I finally decided I should write a full guide for this game. It took me nearly a week to carefully compile all about International Superstar Soccer Pro Evolution 2 that the reader might find useful. Although I don't have any illusions that I included everything relevant in the process of writing, hopefully the most of it is here. If you have any remarks, comments, suggestions or you simply think you can be of some help to the author, feel free to e-mail me.

2.1. Version update

I changed my e-mail address, and it's mazamic@inet.hr now.

2.2. Version update

Corrected some player names, added some text.

= FORMATION SETTING =

1) Member change

Swap players in your team. Press R1 to see player's position / form / condition / set pieces takers. Arrow up means that the player is in a good form, and naturally arrow down means he's in a bad form. In set pieces takers' menu, S is for short free kicks - under 30 metres from goal, L=long free kicks - over 30 m, R/L=right/left side corners, PK=penalties. Press R2 to see players' position / players' numbers / players' offence or defence attitude on the upper diagram.

2) Select kicker

Select set pieces takers, as explained in 1).

3) Select a captain of your team. A useless feature.

4) Formation

Formation means positioning of the outfield players.

a) Change

Select one of the offered formations. You can see how they would look like on the left diagram. Generally, A is attacking and B is a defensive version of the same formation. You should choose the formation that suits your team. For example, if you have fast wingers (Roberto Carlos, Babangida, Jarni), choose a formation to take advantage of their speed, like 4-4-2 A, or even 3-4-3 A. If your team lacks quality or you just like playing defensive, choose something like 5-3-2 or 5-4-1, excellent for a counter attack strategy.

b) Defence type

You can set defence type for each player. There are three types to choose from:

* Covering - a player stays on "his" piece of the field during defensive movement,

- * Zone marking (default) - a player moves with the rest of the team in zonal defence
- * Man to man marking - a player follows the opposition player, which can be chosen on the diagram above with up/down.

c) Offence attitude

Determines whether a player should stay back, go with the team's formation, or run forward (choose with left/right for each player).

d) Position edit

Allows you to edit a position of every single player, depending on a chosen formation. You can also turn centre back (CB) into sweeper (SW, player stays back in front of his keeper) or libero (LIB, player plays slightly in front of his defenders). When you're done, press O and then X to save it as the USER FORMATION.

5) STRATEGY

Choose the strategies of your team.

a) Strategy settings (manual & semi-auto)

Choose up to 4 strategies to use in the match. In MANUAL mode, you assign strategies to 4 right-hand buttons, and turn them ON/OFF with L2+chosen button. In SEMI-AUTO, computer changes strategies A1, A2, A3 during the match, and you are able to use the fourth strategy with L2.

Brief explanation of strategies:

Normal - normal build-up attack and standard defence

Centre attack - your players concentrate at the centre of the field

Right side attack - your players concentrate at the right side of the field

Left side attack - your players concentrate at the left side of the field

Opposite side attack - your players concentrate at the side opposite of the player with ball

Change side - your forwards/wingers exchange sides

CB overlap - one of your centre backs comes forward

Zone press - your defence presses the ball

Counter attack - team develops quick counter attack with players running forward

Offside trap - risky, but very useful way to defend

You can also choose 2 formations to change them in the game without pausing it.

b) Offensive and defensive level

Unlike the menu says, you can choose your offensive and defensive level with R2+SQUARE (more defensive) and R2+O (more offensive) if you choose to do it manually. You can also let the computer do it for you during the game.

= 3. TRUE PLAYER NAMES =

ISS Pro Evolution 2, like previous ISS/Winning Eleven games, comes with false player/stadium/club teams names. Licence, of course, they were unwilling to pay big bucks for licence. As most of you know, stadiums, Master League teams and players can't be edited (I'm not sure about Game Shark though), but you can edit national team players. If you are a true ISS/WE lover, you've probably done it already. However, it's hard to find all players' correct names, and, even though I've tried my best, I still may have some errors. I've been receiving many mails in which you have warned me that "it's not Claudio, it's Lopez". Well, names stated here are the names that players have on their shirts - that goes for Claudio Lopez, too. If you find something you think is a wrong player name, feel free to mail it to me at mazamic@inet.hr.
